

The Way We Do Business

Asset Recording Services understands the requirement to account for and manage assets is often secondary to the need for security and discretion which is why only our employees work on data collection and records compilation for our client's inventory projects. Our field technicians are respectful of customer property by wearing shoe covers indoors. We restrict the use of fragrances and other allergens, we are smoke-free on your premise. We are discreet and security-minded—it is a condition of employment that no one discusses your project with anyone other than another Asset Recording Services employee.
