

Family Law

Advise high net-worth clients on the advantages of an inventory of chattel in anticipation of entering into any legal agreement which would include the future disposition of pre-nuptial or marital assets. Divorce proceedings may present occasions for disagreement. It is in the best interest of all parties to schedule a professional inventory which removes the possibility of misrepresentation or bias and assures an accurate accounting of all assets for review and concurrence. Asset Recording Services also assists firms when coordinating professional appraisers personally known to us and recommended for their expertise and credentials. No longer is it necessary to depend upon the owners or family members to compile an accurate listing of property. The completed inventory of chattel contains items identified by ownership, whether joint or individual and can be customized further. Click here to find out more information about our Residential Services.